

The Fenelon Theatre was built at the corner of Colborne St. and Bond St. in 1947 with the iconic neon marquee sign installed in 1948.

The marquee sign became a beacon for locals and tourists alike. After many years of the theatre providing entertainment which included movies and various events, the building fell into disrepair and was demolished in 2016. However, a group of dedicated volunteers and donors were able to salvage the marquee sign.

With the generous support and contributions of various craftspeople and benefactors, locally and beyond, the Fenelon Theatre marquee was fully restored and installed on this site in September 2018.
