User Guide

This user guide is provided for information purposes, to assist readers in navigating the City of Kawartha Lakes Rural Zoning By-law. The user guide does not form a part of the Zoning By-law.

How Do I Determine a Property’s Zoning and Identify Applicable Regulations?

The following is an outline of the steps one may typically take to determine what types of regulations apply to their property.

Step 1: Identify the property’s zoning on Schedule “A”

A good first step is to locate the property on Schedule “A”. To locate a property’s zoning, start by identifying the location of the property of interest and refer to the index map (Schedule “A”) to identify which of the subsequent maps are likely to illustrate the zoning for the property. The A-series Schedules are also available for review through an online and interactive map where an individual can search a specific address or navigate the City.

If the property of interest is not included within the defined area of this By-law, then it is subject to one of the Urban Zoning By-laws which apply to lands in Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay, and Omemee, and is not subject to the Rural Zoning By-law.

Step 2: Make note of what zoning applies to the property on Schedule “A”

Once the applicable map(s) included in Schedule “A” is identified, the applicable zoning may now be identified. The zones are identified within thick red boundaries and the lots are shown in thin black boundaries. Make a note of the property’s applicable zone symbol (e.g., “RR2A”). In some cases, the property may have suffixes applying to the zone symbol (e.g., a holding symbol (H) or an exception zone, as denoted by a dash followed by a number). Make a note of any suffixes that apply.

The property might also fall within the Conservation Authority “overlay” – a dark blue hatched area represents that your property is subject to the Regulated Area of a Conservation Authority.

Schedule “A” shows the lands in the City of Kawartha Lakes that are affected by Minister’s Zoning Orders (MZOs). These are orders issued under the Planning Act by the Ontario Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing which may regulate the use of land and/or requirements for lots, buildings and structures. In the event of a conflict between this Zoning By-law and an MZO, the MZO prevails.

Step 3: Check if the property is affected by Schedule “B” or Schedule “C”

Schedule “B” illustrates the wellheads in the rural areas. If the property is within a Wellhead Protection Area, make a note of it. The intent of Schedule “B” is to implement Ontario’s Clean Water Act and the applicable Source Protection Plans.

Schedule “C” illustrates the flood plain along the Burnt River. If the property is within a flood plain area shown on Schedule “C”, make a note of the cross-section number shown on the map, and refer to Appendix 1 of this Zoning By-law to identify the regulatory flood elevation for the property. Schedule “C” implements the recommendations of the Burnt River Flood Plain Mapping Study prepared by the Kawartha Region Conservation Authority and helps to protect people and property from flood damage.

Step 4: Check the permitted uses and regulations applying to the property

Every property has a base zone applying to it (e.g., “RR2A”) shown on Schedule “A”. Once you know the base zone, you can consult the appropriate section of the Zoning By-law to confirm the permitted uses and regulations applying to the property. Section 2.1 of this By-law lists of the zones and identifies which category each zone is in (e.g., Residential, Agriculture, Commercial etc.).

Below are descriptions of the zone categories. These are to be used for information purposes only and to provide readers with an idea of what types of uses are contemplated in each zone. Lists of permitted uses for each zone can be found in the corresponding section as listed below.

- Residential zones are divided into Hamlet Residential, Rural Residential and Residential Mobile Home Park. Residential zone categories include provisions for uses such as single detached dwellings and community gardens. Depending on where the subject property is located (i.e., in a hamlet, along a shoreline), a residential property will generally be subject to one of the Residential zones. A list of permitted uses and zone provisions is found in Section 6.0.
- The Agriculture zones within the municipality are Agriculture, Agriculture Related and Agriculture Consolidation. These zones contemplate agricultural uses and acknowledge on-farm diversified uses. The Agriculture Consolidation zone is used where dwellings are no longer permitted on a lot following lot consolidation or severance.
- Commercial General, Commercial Highway, Commercial Rural, Commercial Recreation and Commercial Campground are Commercial zones. Application of these zones is generally related to the location of a property in the municipality. For instance, the Commercial Highway Zone contains different provisions than the Commercial Rural Zone as it intended to consider uses and operations located along a major roadway.
- The Industrial zones are Industrial General, Industrial Restricted, Industrial Extractive, Industrial Disposal and Industrial Rural. These zones typically contain uses associated with manufacturing, recycling and waste and resource extraction. The uses in these zones may require separation from other types of land uses.

- The Open Space, Open Space Restricted, Open Space Special Use and Environmental Protection zones are Environmental Protection & Open Space Zones. These zones generally indicate parkland and environmental features. Few uses are contemplated in these zones and conservation is prioritized.
- The Community Use Zone acknowledges uses that can be considered as neighbourhood amenities, both public and private, including parks, post offices and schools.
- The Future Development Zone is intended to be an interim zone that acknowledges and limits existing uses with the notion that future uses and developments may be contemplated.

Many properties are subject to a site-specific exception zone, as represented by a dash and a number (e.g., XX-430 is an exception zone). If this is the case, the property has special provisions that apply. The provisions within the exception will supersede or add onto other provisions of the Zoning By-law. To find the applicable special provisions, refer to Section 12.0 and locate the exception number that corresponds with the symbol shown on the property.

If the property's zoning is subject to a holding symbol (H), refer to Section 2.4.3 and the applicable exception zone. A holding symbol indicates that permitted uses will be limited until the holding symbol is lifted by by-law, and this will require the owner to meet certain conditions.

Step 5: Understanding permitted uses and lot and building requirements

The permitted uses for each zone are organized in a matrix. The uses permitted on the property are represented by a check mark (✓) corresponding with the applicable zone symbol. Similarly, the lot and building requirements are organized in a matrix. For each zone, the requirements for lot frontage, front yard setback, rear yard setback, maximum building height, and other requirements are identified.

It is important to read the definitions associated with the terminology used in this By-law. All of the uses permitted in this By-law are associated with a definition. Many technical terms are also defined, such as water setback, lot frontage, lot coverage, and front yard setback, for example. Where a term is defined, you will see it appear as bolded in the text for convenience.

Many technical definitions contained in Section 2.0 of this By-law are accompanied by illustrations which clarify how each definition can be applied. Refer to these illustrations to understand how different terms apply to your specific lot. These illustrations do not form a part of the Zoning By-law and are provided for convenience purposes only.

Step 6: Locate the other provisions that may apply

The types of uses permitted and lot and building requirements are principally regulated by the zone requirements. However, Section 4.0 contains provisions that apply to certain permitted uses. For example, there are provisions that are specifically applicable to on-farm diversified uses, shoreline naturalization and setbacks, shipping containers, and many other uses.

Further, if the property of interest was included in a Wellhead Protection Area as shown on Schedule “B” (Step 3 outlined previously), the associated general provisions will apply.

Note: Consider the administrative provisions of the Zoning By-law

Section 1 of the Zoning By-law contains some provisions that can help the reader understand how to read and use the By-law and what the penalties are for contravening the Zoning By-law. The reader should be familiar with these provisions as they may be essential depending on the specific circumstance.

Step 7: Contact City staff to confirm zoning information

Property owners should always consult with City of Kawartha Lakes staff to confirm zoning information and determine the approval requirements for a particular project. If the provisions of the Zoning By-law cannot be met, a Minor Variance or Zoning By-law Amendment application may be required.

- .2 A zone symbol may also be preceded or followed by a combination of a hyphen, letter(s), number(s), to establish special provisions as set out in this By-law. Lands so identified shall be subject to all the provisions of the parent zone, except as otherwise provided in the special provisions.

2.4.2 Multiple Zones on One Lot

- .1 Where a lot falls into two or more zones, each portion of that lot shall be subject to the applicable permitted uses and standards, excluding the minimum lot area and lot coverage, for the applicable zone applying to that portion of the lot.

- .2 Parking spaces, driveways, and parking aisles required by this By-law may be provided anywhere on a lot that falls into two or more zones, unless otherwise prohibited by this By-law.

2.4.3 Holding Symbol

- .1 Where a zone shown on Schedule “A” is followed by a hyphen (-) and the symbol “H”, the lands are subject to a holding provision that shall apply until such time that the “H” symbol is lifted by an amendment to this By-law, in accordance with Section 36 of the Planning Act.
- .2 The requirements for lifting the holding symbol are indicated in the amending by-law, which are incorporated as an exception zone under Section 13 of this By-law.
- .3 On any lands where a holding symbol is applied, the permitted uses, lot and building requirements that apply while the holding symbol is in effect, and after the holding symbol is lifted, shall be in accordance with the applicable zone provisions.

2.4.4 Exception Zones

- .1 Where a zone symbol shown on Schedule “A” is followed by a hyphen (-) and a number, the affected lands shall be subject to the special provisions of the corresponding exception zone under Section 13 of this By-law.
- .2 An exception zone is a base zone that has been modified by adding, deleting, or otherwise amending any permitted uses, prohibited uses, or other regulations for the lands to which the exception zone applies. The requirements of an exception zone take precedence over all other provisions of this By-law where there is a conflict. By default, the remainder of the provisions of this By-law shall apply unless explicitly stated in the exception zone in Section 13.
