Section 4: Location of Heritage Features

The primary heritage feature of the property is Coronation Hall, the early twentieth century municipal and concert hall which is located in the middle of the property facing King Street West.

Section 5: Statement of Reasons for Designation

Design and Physical Value

1 King Street West, also known as Coronation Hall, has design and physical value as a rare example of a Prairie style public building in Ontario. The Prairie style developed in the American Midwest in the early twentieth century in the work of architect Frank Lloyd Wright and is characterized by its strong horizontal lines, limited ornamentation, geometric qualities and natural colour palette. While relatively popular in the United States, its use in Canada was limited, particularly in public buildings. Coronation Hall is a rare example of its use in a municipal building and concert hall and displays key characteristics of the style such as horizontal lines, a low pitched hipped roof, neutral colour palette and strong use of geometric forms. The interior is also a well-preserved example of an early twentieth century concert hall.

Historical and Associative Value

1 King Street West has historical and associative value in its association with Flora McCrae, Lady Eaton, who commissioned the hall in 1911 as a gift to the village, and in its role as the former Town Hall for the Village of Omemee. Lady Eaton was born in Omemee in 1879 and married John Craig Eaton, the younger son of Eaton's store founder Timothy Eaton, who she met in Toronto while working as a nurse. Lady Eaton was a significant philanthropist in the early decades of the twentieth century and, in particular, made substantial contributions to her home town, including funding the construction of Coronation

Hall. The building served as a concert hall as well as the Town Hall for the village, which it had been without since the separation of Omemee from the rest of Emily Township in 1874.

Contextual Value

1 King Street West has contextual value as a significant local landmark in the village of Omemee and as a contributing feature to its historic small town streetscape. The building has served as a concert hall and municipal building since its construction in 1911 and is a well-used and recognized community space in the village. It forms part of the historic streetscape of King Street East and West which forms the core of the village and is comprised of a range of historic building in various late nineteenth and early twentieth century styles. The subject property maintains and supports this historic landscape and is one of its anchor buildings at the corner of Sturgeon and King Streets.
