

121-123 William Street North, Lindsay

121-123 William Street North is a rare example of an early twentieth century semi-detached property in Lindsay. Constructed between 1898 and 1911, the property is only one of a few semi-detached properties from this period in the community. It uses common Victorian design features including projecting gable bays, gable roofs, and rusticated quoins with each unit possessing its own entrance and porch. It is a contributing property to the historic landscape of William Street North.
